Ahmed Pasha the commander in chief of the Turkish forces some time ago declared that the troops at his disposal were sufficient and since then the great stream of fresh troops have been directed toward Saloniki.

Crown Prince Danilo and his staff at one time were in great danger a shell bursting a few yards from them.

PETTIT'S TESTIMONY WAS CORROBORATIVE

Former Speaker of Indiana House Tells Practically Same Story As Others As to Beverage Campaign.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 25.—When the senate campaign contributions committee met today H. C. Pettit, former speaker of the Indiana house of representatives, questioned by Senator Penrose, corroborated testimony of former witnesses of the contribution of George W. Perkins, Edward L. McLean and Gifford Pinchot, to Senator Beveridge's campaign in 1904. He said he believed the total of these contributions was $57,500. Mr. Perkins told the committee he contributed $10,000 which Mr. Beveridge returned. Chairman Clapp announced that Mr. Beveridge and H. C. Starr, were to testify tomorrow. Pettit said that Senator Beveridge showed him each of these checks or drafts for $10,000 which he was informed came from Perkins. Senator Beveridge told him he did not intend to use any of the money that it was a matter of personal friendship.

"The state committee knew nothing of this money," said Mr. Pettit. He said he knew the money was returned unused after the election. When Mr. Pettit concluded Chairman Clapp announced the committee probably would recess tomorrow until after election. The committee then adjourned until tomorrow.

OUTLINES EVIDENCE IN LINDLOFF CASE Prosecution in Chicago Murder Trial Tells of Evidence Which Will Be Presented.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 25.—When the trial of Mrs. Louisa Lindloff for the murder of her 15 year old son, Arthur, was resumed here today in the criminal court, the prosecution outlined the evidence upon which it will attempt to convict the woman of the charge. Mrs. Lindloff calm and placid kept her eyes fixed on the prosecutor and her attorney as they debated whether it was proper to recite the history of the death of other members of the Lindloff family, alleged to have been caused by the defendant.

Prosecutor Smith told the jury that the prosecution would show by competent evidence that Mrs. Lindloff had predicted the death of three members of her family, William, Almon and Arthur. He said he would disprove the contention of the defense that Arthur's death was the result of inhaling arsenic from the wall paper in his room.

Conservatives and Liberals Engage in Hot Fight After Close of Political Meeting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Havana, Cuba, Oct. 25.—A fight between conservatives and liberals during which several hundred shots were fired and a number of people were killed and wounded, broke out after midnight in Central park in the heart of the city at the close of a meeting of supporters of Vice-President Alfredo Zayas, who is a candidate for the presidency.

The meeting was conducted peacefully until the last speaker ascended the platform when a number of shots were fired apparently by a group of conservatives gathered in front of a hotel. Instantly the crowd began to disperse and the fusillade became general, extending across the park and down the Prado.

For ten minutes the firing was brisk. Strong forces of mounted police and cavalry charged repeatedly with drawn matchsticks and firing revolvers. The mob returned the fire from the windows and porches of the house. A crowd of adherents of Zayas halted in front of the Asbert club, firing volleys at the windows, the shots being returned from the balconies of the club by the supporters of General Asbert, the conservative candidate for the governorship of Havana.

Here occurred the hottest fighting. Several policemen's horses were shot under them. A number of shots struck the American club opposite the Asbert club. Reinforcements of police rural guard and soldiers arrived and the mob was dispersed.

SCORES CALIFORNIA PROGRESSIVES' MOVE

Senator John D. Works Writing in La Follette's Magazine Assails Bull Moose Tactics in Home State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—The seizing of the Republican party organization in California by the National Progressives is assailed by United States Senator John D. Works of the state in an article in La Follette's magazine today. The senator is bitter in his denunciation of the methods used by the Progressives of his home state, whom he carefully differentiates from the Progressive Republicans. He writes:

"By fraudulent affidavits, by which 'Progressives' were enabled to vote and run as candidates in the Republican party, they (the Progressives) have gained control of the machinery of that party of which they are not members, in the interest of Roosevelt, the candidate of another party. By voting as Republicans, the 'Progressives' have also secured the power to select the state central committee not of their own party but of the Republican party to which they do not belong and the candidates to which they are using every effort, fair or foul, to defeat. To do this they must, of course, still act as Republicans. This is, of course, a fraud and false pretense. No kind of sophistry or evasion can conceal the fact that this whole proceeding is fraudulent. The merits of the respective candidates, or their parties, have nothing to do with the question. It is a question of common honesty and justice."

Senator Works attacks Col. Roosevelt as being in no proper sense a tried and true Progressive, and who is "all things to all men to get votes." "He is suddenly become an advocate of women suffrage because so many of them are now voters and have become so without his help, he never was before," declares the senator.

Senator Works concludes with a plea for support for Wilson after asserting that nothing of benefit to progressive principles can be gained by voting for either Taft or Roosevelt.

EXAMINED ITALIAN ON VERY SERIOUS CHARGE

Resident of Beloit Brought to Janesville by the Federal Officers.

Benny Celagatto, an Italian living in Beloit, was brought before United States Court Commissioner Stanley D. Tallman today, charged with making and attempting to pass counterfeit dollars on H. E. Morse and other citizens of Beloit. He was given a hearing in Court Commissioner Tallman's office today to determine whether he should be held to the federal grand jury of the western district of Wisconsin.

Celagatto was arrested yesterday by Beloit Detective Bartholomew Bratton of the United States Secret Service of Chicago, and Chief of Police Charles Qualman of Beloit, and brought to this city at five o'clock yesterday afternoon and lodged in the county jail. The detective and the chief immediately went to the court commissioner's office, and a telephone message was sent to United States Marshal William H. Appleby of Madison, and Mr. Appleby came here this morning to take charge of the case. Efforts also were made to secure Assistant United States District Attorney H. H. Morgan of Madison, but Mr. Morgan is in the south at present and if necessary, George H. Gordon, district attorney for the western district of Wisconsin, will be called.

The hearing was taken up just before noon today, and the testimony of Chief of Police Qualman was given, to allow the chief to return to Beloit to attend to some matters he had to look after. Adjournment was then taken until two o'clock this afternoon in order that friends of Celagatto's from Beloit might arrive here to look after his interests, and act as interpreter for him, as he stated that he did not understand the charges when the warrant was read to him by Deputy Marshal William Appleby. The offense is alleged to have been committed last Saturday night.

According to Chief Qualman's testimony, complaint was made to him Saturday evening by Sam Goldstein that a counterfeit dollar had been passed on him, and he brought the coin to the police station and showed it to the chief. The chief notified his officers to warn the merchants to be on the lookout for bad dollars. The officers secured one bad dollar that had been passed on Dennis Lawler. Both Goldstein and Lawler gave a description of the man who passed the counterfeit money that tallied with that of Celagatto. Other complaints were made at the police station during the course of the evening and on Sunday, among the complainants mentioned by the chief being H. E. Morse, Monroe Armfield and H. J. Kallaly. The chief notified Thomas J. Porter of Chicago, and yesterday Detective Bratton arrived in Beloit. The detective and the chief arrested Celagatto and searched him, but no spurious coins were found on his person. They also searched Celagatto's house. The Italian is a co-maker in one of the Beloit foundries. Testimony in the hearing was resumed at two o'clock this afternoon. H. E. Morse, D. J. Lawler, Sam Goldstein and H. J. Kallaly being summoned as witnesses. Up until about four o'clock the testimony had not been completed.

USE OF DICTOGRAPH TOLD OF IN TRIAL

Newspaper Man Testifies as to Government Spy System in Union Headquarters.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 25.—Records taken by government stenographers of conference held in the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers after the officials of that union had been indicted for alleged complicity with the McNamara brothers, were produced for identification at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Ralph W. Douglas, a newspaper man was called to testify as to the presence of a telephone "spy" system in the union headquarters. For two months government stenographers hidden in a room below recorded what was said in the iron workers' office. Douglas said the sound receiver was under President Frank M. Ryan's desk. Secretary Herbert S. Hockin was in the same room at a desk formerly occupied by J. J. McNamara, the confessed dynamiter. After the stenographer had been reporting what had been said for eight weeks the government officials asserted they heard Hockin and Ryan make remarks which indicated the presence of the telephone system was known.

The principal features of the session were addresses by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue of New York City, on "The Tasks of a Teacher in a Democracy," and by the Hon. Henry C. TWO REBEL LEADERS SHOT BY FEDERALS; MAY EXECUTE DIAZ Rebel General at Vera Cruz May Get Same Fate as Two Followers Who Were Shot Last Night.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Vera Cruz, Mex., Oct. 25.—Two of the captured officers of the staff of Felix Diaz were shot by the federal troops at half past ten last evening, after being sentenced to death by summary court martial. The execution was carried out with absolute secrecy. Their names were Major Zarate and Major Cuesta.

Diaz May Get Death. The court martial began its session at 5 o'clock in the evening and its judgments must be delivered and the verdicts put into effect within 72 hours from the time of meeting. Major Ferdinand Zarate and Major Julien Vilas are pleading on behalf of Diaz who according to military law is liable to imprisonment for from three to eight years.

Public opinion against Diaz, however, is so strong that it is thought a sentence of death may be pronounced upon him as well as on all the officers and government officials who joined his cause and were captured. The troops, however, who rebelled will in all likelihood not be punished. Felix Diaz is to be brought before the court martial this afternoon.

May Arrest Agents. Some of the volunteers who joined Diaz belonged to the leading families of the city. Commodore Agueta of the federal navy called last evening on Gen. Beltran, the federal commander in chief, who received him coldly, telling him he did not adopt a definite attitude during the Diaz revolution.

It is reported that the Commodore also is to be court-martialed. The garrison of Vera Cruz consisted of 2,500 men of all branches of the service. The city is perfectly quiet and business had been generally resumed. Federal Demonstration. Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 25.—A demonstration in favor of the Mexican government was held last evening when a large number of people paraded the streets, waving banners and shouting, "Hurrah for the government. Death to Diaz." A detachment of mounted police kept in close touch with the demonstrators and no disorder occurred.

May Have Civil Trial. A rebel removing Gen. Felix Diaz, the rebel leader, from the jurisdiction of the military court, was granted late last night by the federal judge of the first district court here. The action was taken on the plea of Lieutenant Colonel L. Munoz, a cousin of Felix Diaz.

The full court will decide whether Diaz is to be returned to the jurisdiction of the military court or tried before a civil tribunal. Government officials insist that Diaz is amenable to military jurisdiction under the constitutional provision relating to civilians who incite the army to revolt.

Beltran Wants Execution. Vera Cruz, Oct. 25.—Felix Diaz, together with his comrades in the late revolt against the Madero government probably will be executed in accordance with the provision of the military code. Gen. Beltran, commanding the federal troops, is authority for the statement that no exception will be made in the case of the former president's nephew and that his case will not be tried by civil authorities.

BECKER FOUND GUILTY--MAY DIE IN CHAIR.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] New York, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Twelve men who refused today to discuss their deliberation returned at two minutes after twelve o'clock this morning with a verdict of first degree murder against police Lieutenant Charles Becker, the first of seven men to be tried for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. On Wednesday, Oct. 20, Supreme Court Justice Goff will fix the time for the prisoner's death in the electric chair. Exceeded by the ordeal of the trial, John F. McIntyre, chief counsel of the defense, nevertheless, began today the preliminary steps looking to an appeal and a stay of execution for his client. The case will be brought to the court of appeals and Becker, pacing his cell in the Tombs, expresses hope of the outcome. At the same time he denounces what he styles the rigorous partiality of Justice Goff in his charge to the jury and his conduct of the trial. Mrs. Becker, who fainted in the corridors of the criminal court building when a breathless messenger sprinting for a telephone shouted, "Guilty," is under the care of relatives at her home in the Bronx. Like her husband she never dreamed of a first degree verdict, but rather counted on a disagreement of the jurors. Justice Goff, it is understood, has gone to the country for a rest over the week end. "I am sorry the jury found as they did," was Lieut. Chas. Becker's only comment to his jailers this morning as the convicted man sat on the edge of his prison cot. The iron nerve which stood by him throughout the ordeal of the fifteen day trial did not desert him today. Becker's coolness may be partly accounted for by his confidence that an appeal will mean a reversal followed by a new trial and probably acquittal. Lieutenant Lloyd P. Stryker, of Becker's counsel said today that the appeal would probably take a year.

ELECTION RETURNS BY SPECIAL WIRES

GAZETTE AND MYERS THEATRE
MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR EXCELLENT NEWS SER-VICE NIGHT OF
NOVEMBER 5th.

THROWN ON BIG SCREEN

And Read From Stage of Theatre Will Give Everyone an Opportunity
Of Learning Results Quickly
The Country Over.

Arrangements have been completed for a most excellent news service on the night of election, Tuesday, November 5th, whereby the citizens of Janesville can learn the results of the national, state and county election within a few minutes after the vote is counted. Not only will the results be thrown on a special screen, opposite the Gazette office on Milwaukee street but they will also be read from the stage of the Myers Theatre, where Manager Peter L. Myers will have a first class attraction that evening, giving two or three shows, as the public demands.

The Western Union Telegraph company will have a special wire running direct from their Chicago headquarters to the Gazette office, with an expert operator in charge. The results from all parts of the country will be received quickly and immediately thrown upon the screen in front of the office and also read from the stage of the Myers theatre. In having it furnished at both places simultaneously, the public is given an opportunity of not only enjoying the returns at the theatre but also of witnessing a first class performance arranged for by Manager Myers. Those who prefer to watch the returns from the street can also be given a chance of knowing the results before going home.

Aside from the general results of the nation, the Wisconsin outcome of the contest now being waged between Democrats, Republicans and Bull Moosers will be reported accurately and quickly. From the state republican and democratic and progressive headquarters in Milwaukee and the Tait headquarters in Oshkosh as well as from Madison, by special correspondents. As the interest in the gubernatorial contest is one of vital interest in this section of the state these returns will be watched for with eagerness.

Then there will also be the returns from the county and the Gazette has made special arrangements in every voting precinct to obtain the results as quickly as possible and as accurately as they can be counted. Aside from these special returns there will also be a resume kept of the total which will be flashed from time to time giving those who came later than the earlier reports an opportunity to keep in close touch with the general situation.

A special telephone, over the Rock County System, will be installed for use of those who want to know results but can not come down town and the calls will all be answered and results given as promptly as possible. The special number of this phone will be announced later and will be for the convenience of those who want election results and thus relieve the tension on the regular telephones in the office which will be busy receiving results.

APPROVED PROPOSED REPAIRS TO BRIDGE

City Engineer Edward Main of Rockford, After Inspection, Declares Improvement Advisable.

Following an inspection of the Milwaukee street bridge made yesterday afternoon in company with City Engineer C. V. Korch and other members of the Board of Public Works, Edward Main, city engineer at Rockford, stated that the bridge and stringers were in good condition and that the city would be warranted in placing upon them a new deck of creosoted plank and creosoted block pavement. The planing of the bridge was taken up at different points to permit of an inspection of the stringers. Although they were in good condition generally it was found that the water, which had filtered through the crevices in the planking, had rotted them in places to the depth of half an inch. Engineer Main has had considerable experience with pile bridges, having been superintendent of the Rockford & Interurban railway prior to taking a position with the city. He will submit a written report to the Board of Public Works.

INSPECTED SCHOOLS WILL MAKE REPORT ON THE CONDITION

State Inspector of Schools H. L. Terry Spent Thursday in Janesville.

At the request of Dr. Buckmaster, president of the Janesville School Board, state superintendent of public instruction Cary of Madison, sent H. L. Terry to Janesville to make an advisory inspection of the Janesville public school buildings. It is merely an advisory report for it was a formal statement it is probable that at least two, if not three, of the city schools would be condemned by the state authorities owing to the condition they are in relative to light and sanitation. Mr. Terry made a careful examination of the Jefferson sen, Washington and Lincoln schools and will have many suggestions to make for radical changes that should be made immediately. The Adams school also will come in for proposed changes most necessary but the condition of the other buildings were better than anticipated. Mr. Terry made a short visit to Janesville the 13th of the month and it was as a result of his visit at that time the present inspection was requested. The report will show Janesville is far behind in the matter of caring for its schools and will be watched with interest.

Battling Nelson is just crazy to have a fight with Packey McFarland, the Chicago stockyards hero. Battling Nelson has one more fight in his battered system and he wants to turn it loose on Packey.

"Packey runs every time he sees me," recently declared Nelson. "I just want to make one more great fight, and I hope to make it with McFarland as my opponent. I will let Packey draw up the articles, name the weight, the size of the forfeit and the split of the purse. But Nelson is not all in yet and Packey McFarland will be soft for him."

"Of course, Packey will pay no attention to Nelson's oratory. Maybe Bat didn't expect he would."

Booker T. Washington, great negro educator, condemns pugilist Jack Johnson as a member of his race who who has harmed rather than helped his development. "It is unfortunate that a man with money should use it in a way to injure his own people with those who are seeking to uplift his race and improve its condition," declares Washington. "He harms himself the least and he misrepresents the colored people of the country."

The Chicago Cubs will be a different looking bunch next year. To what they are this year if President Charles W. Murphy doesn't change his mind. Murphy wants to weed out a lot of the old ones, and shoot more young blood into the team. He hasn't mentioned the names yet of any of those to whom he will tie the can.

In the Western football conference it begins to look as if Wisconsin would carry off first honors this year. Chicago has not yet been beaten, but showed to such poor advantage in the game last Saturday with Iowa that Maroon fans are not as hopeful as they generally are at this season of the year. Chicago's victory over Iowa showed the latter's weakness rather than the former's strength. Wisconsin, on the other hand, showed great improvement, defeating the strong Purdue eleven by a score of 42 to 0. Chicago meets Wisconsin a week from next Saturday.

JANESVILLE CLAIMS CHANCE FOR TITLE

Will be in Running Against Strong Madison and Fort Atkinson Elevens-Whitewater Here Tomorrow.

Many throughout the state are of the opinion that the Janesville high school football team are in the running for the state championship. Other papers mention only such teams as Madison, Fort Atkinson, Eau Claire, Wausau, LaCrosse and even Whitewater as contenders for the title. Janesville wishes to make the announcement that her elimination will not come until after the team is defeated by one of the strong aspirants. The locals have entered each game, not knowing what the outcome would be. In several games defeat was expected, but they have won each time. They have romped away with three teams which they have played by large scores. This proves the fact that the locals are anxious to make their way to the finals, at least assuming that they have the chance. If they can defeat Whitewater here tomorrow, it is likely a game with Madison can be arranged. They will however wait until the Madison-La Crosse game is played off. The locals are in fine condition for their game with Whitewater here tomorrow. Only enough confidence as to make the locals win, prevails. Much enthusiasm is creeping into the school as the locals fear Whitewater, and it is thought this game will be the hardest fought on their schedule. Again the locals have "Schultz" Falter in the lineup tomorrow. He has finally made the announcement that he would play, and will be the mainstay with the team in their onward march to the championship. He has brought his weight up to 175, and will play right tackle tomorrow.

A mass meeting will be held today at the school to stir up school spirit and the team is expected with about 400 rooters will throng the gridiron tomorrow with a world of enthusiasm to cheer the locals to four straight victories. The crowd last Saturday was a surprise, and a larger one is expected tomorrow, as the game will be played in the afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The lineup will be as follows:

BUOB'S BEER AND ALE ARE HEALTHFUL AND HERE'S WHY.

We have a large storage capacity whereby we are enabled with ease and convenience to "store" and "age" our beer or ale the required length of time.

This makes it always mature and healthful and fit for the most delicate stomach.

The storage of beer and ale is of great importance and with our large store house which is equipped with a modern refrigerating system we are enabled to maintain a suitable and proper temperature for the beer and ale during all the seasons.

Thus the ingredients, the skill, the climate, the water and the aging all contribute to produce that marvelous fragrance and mellow flavor so generally desired and for which Buob's Beer and Ale are known.

When beer or ale is made from the best material (by men who are masters of the art of brewing) it contains both dextrose and albumen which are foods; also phosphates, which build up bone, brain and tissue.

The extract of the hop blossom acts as a splendid digestive and quiets the nerves.

Furthermore the small amount of alcohol in really good beer or ale is a wholesome, natural tonic for the entire system while the effervescing carbonic acid gas makes the beverage refreshing and gratifying.

For these reasons we claim Buob's Beer and Ale (Our Own New Brew) are of commanding superiority—that they are beverages, a tonic and restorer as well as a nourishing, natural, healthful food of substantial value.

We are just placing a new bottled ale on the market. Ask for a case of it.

KILL THIS AMENDMENT.

Four amendments to the state constitution will appear on the ballot to be voted on November 5th. They are a part of the election notice which has been printed in the Gazette once a week for the past two months, and should be carefully read by every voter.

Most amendments pass because the parties interested in them work for their passage, while the average voter is so indifferent that he knows nothing about them until they become laws. That is why the state is cursed with the primary law and the income tax, and many other fads sprung upon an unsuspecting public by designing leaders.

The one pernicious amendment which should be buried beyond resurrection this year will be known as Joint Resolution No. 48.

To amend Article XI of the Constitution by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 3a, relating to the acquisition of lands by the state or any of its cities for certain public purposes.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1909, an amendment to the Constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That Article XI of the Constitution be amended by adding a new section thereto, to be known as Section 3a to read:

Section 3a. The state or any of its cities may acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation lands for establishing, laying out, widening, enlarging, extending and maintaining memorial grounds, streets, squares, parkways, boulevards, parks, playgrounds, sites for public buildings, and reservations in and about and along and leading to any or all of the same; and after the establishment, layout, and completion of such improvements, may convey any such real estate thus acquired and not necessary for such improvements, with reservations concerning the future use and occupation of such real estate, so as to protect such public works and improvements, and their environs, and to preserve the view, appearance, light, air, and usefulness of such public works; and, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby, agreed to by this Legislature.

If the average mind, unaided by higher education, is unable to discover the "nigger in the wood pile" in this amendment, his case is hopeless. Can you conceive of any city outside of Madison, or any organization outside the state university, that would be benefited?

It would be possible, under this law, for the state to condemn millions of dollars worth of property in Madison, for park and playground purposes, for the benefit of the state school. Better cultivate the new farms for a year or two and give the people a chance to get their breath.

IT IS PARTIES, NOT MEN.

This country is governed by parties, not by men.

Either William H. Taft or Woodrow Wilson will govern the United States. That will be done by the republican party or by the democratic party. Don't forget that.

We tried the democratic party once—just once in fifty years—and the result was universal bankruptcy. Champ Clark said that "Grover Cleveland's last administration was the most appalling calamity since the fall of Adam." Why travel that road again?

To keep the republican party in power can't possibly make things worse, and it may make them better.

To put the democratic party in power can't possibly make things better and it will almost certainly make them worse.

Why gamble with good times?

This terse statement of facts, sent out by the republican national committee, contains food for thought which should interest every intelligent mind. The weakening of parties through the nefarious primary law, has emphasized the individual unit candidates loom up large on the horizon and issues are forgotten.

The national progressive campaign has been a one-man campaign, and but for the popularity of the great leader the effort to organize the party would have died at the Chicago convention.

The question of supreme importance today is not whether we like Taft. This has nothing to do with the situation. The president does not make the laws. He is simply the executive.

The republican party is greater than Taft or Roosevelt, or any man connected with it. Under its wise leadership the nation has prospered and is still prosperous. The important question of the hour is, Are we satisfied to have the good times continue? If not, why not?

Leaders come and go. Their rise is sometimes spectacular, but their passing never disturbs the current of national life. The two great parties, which have long contended for supremacy, are very much alive today, and they will continue to live long after the sky-rocket organization is forgotten.

The democratic party was threatened with annihilation by Bryanism, and for a dozen years it was a byword, but it survived the shock, and is stronger today than ever before.

The free silver issue, without Bryan, would have died in the burning, and the new progressive party, without Roosevelt, would never have seen the light of national organization.

Bryan was stronger than Roosevelt, as a leader, because he worked within the party, and appropriated the livery of old-time organization to forward his ambition. Roosevelt withdrew from the party, after exhausting all the honors it had to confer, and attempts to wreck it by organizing a new party.

Bryan saved his political scalp by staying with his party. What may happen to Roosevelt remains for history to record. The party which he is attempting to wreck will live long after he retires as a leader.

No one man in this country has ever been big enough to be a Caesar, or to swallow a party and keep it down; the dose is too heavy for even a bull moose stomach.

Self-interest will suggest to every thinking man, how he ought to vote. The tried and tested has made good, and it is a poor time to experiment.

NO USE FOR THE PRIMARY.

"If you re-elect Tom Morris lieutenant governor this year, you elect his governor two years hence. If you elect John McConnell to the assembly you elect him speaker. If you re-elect Otto Bosshard to the senate, there are honors awaiting him, for they are all destined to be important figures and from the way J. E. Higbee, your county chairman, is running this campaign he is destined to be state chairman."—Senator La Follette in his La Crosse speech.

Why hadn't we thought of it before and saved all the bother and expense of a primary election? The state is fortunate in having a leader who can drop in on any community and fill the state offices by a wave of the hand. The city of La Crosse should put him on a pedestal and keep him there until after election, for he don't propose to vote.

The Oshkosh Northwestern offers Senator La Follette the following bit of advice, which will make about as much impression on the senator as water on a duck's back.

"From childhood up human nature resents the spirit of the child who 'won't play' because it cannot have its own way. This is apparently the attitude assumed by Senator La Follette in the present instance, and it ill comports with his claim of being a true progressive, interested solely in the advancement of the welfare of the nation as a whole. Better by far to be for something, even though wrong, than to sulk and hold aloof at a time of crisis thereby contributing by sheer indifference to the success of wrong."

The Chicago Inter-Ocean thus solves the problem, and makes the path of duty clear to the disgruntled Wisconsin senator: "Senator La Follette in a public address Tuesday at La Crosse, Wis., declared that he would not vote for Taft or Roosevelt or Wilson. Where, oh where, is this precious vote going on Nov. 5. Really, Senator La Follette can't consistently vote for Debs. Nor is he likely to vote for Chafin. After much profound cogitation, or words to that effect, we have come to the conclusion that Senator Robert Marion La Follette will get at least one vote for president in Wisconsin."

Next Sunday will be observed by all the churches throughout the state as Tuberculosis day, and the united effort to arouse public sentiment,

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

A Battle Hymn.

In the dining room I sit, thinking, mother dear, of you.

And the way you chased the flies long years ago.

With a swatter that you made from a turn-up window shade.

And the swatter was a thing you didn't know.

CHORUS.

Swat, swat, swat, the flies are marching.

Cheer up, comrades, and be gay, When you swat one in the face.

Fifty-seven take his place, And the flies are getting thicker every day.

With a swatter in my hand, every day I take my stand.

Then I fan the atmosphere with spiteful swish,

And I reckon with a sigh that I never hit a fly.

But each time I bust a seven-dollar dish.

CHORUS.

Swat, swat, swat, the flies are marching.

Cheer up, comrades, and be gay, If at first you don't succeed,

Keep on swatting, that's the creed, And it may be you will knock one out some day.

They are in the sugar bowl and the steak on casserole.

They are in the soup, the hash, the milk and tea.

They are always on the hike and disturbing the mike.

They're as busy as the fabled busy bee.

CHORUS.

Swat, swat, swat, the flies are marching.

Cheer up, comrades, and be gay, Tho' you slip and sprain your neck and become a nervous wreck, Keep on swatting, for it is the only way.

Advice to Young Men.

Young man, this is leap year, still, and something is liable to happen to you any moment.

In such an emergency it is well to be prepared. There are a few set rules which you should follow when there is a likelihood of being asked to marry one of the fair creatures. Follow these rules, and you will be happy.

Marriage is an important step, you know, and the young man can not be too careful in accepting a proposal.

If she is muscular and has biceps like those of a section hand, think well before you take a chance.

Do not marry one who has a fondness for pool and billiards, or who along the lines of sanitation, and prevention of the spread of the white plague, should result in much good. The effort is worthy of every encouragement.

None of the candidates for president is good enough for Bob La Follette, and yet he undertakes to tell the voters of Wisconsin to vote for McGovern, after insisting that the governor's plunge into the Roosevelt tar barrel "maused him up" shockingly.

The Wilson republican-democratic party in Wisconsin failed to materialize as an organization, and yet many so-called republicans in the state propose to vote for Wilson. That may be consistent, or may be simply blind idolatry to a hypnotic leader.

What's the use of having an election, anyway? The Chicago Tribune has elected Roosevelt so many times, on the straw vote, during the last few days, that a ratification in November seems like a waste of time and needless expense.

Former Governor W. D. Hoard and J. S. Anderson of Manitowish are mighty good republicans, but they cannot support McGovern, and are calling upon all republicans to bring about his defeat.

If Governor McGovern deserves reelection will some of his supporters kindly explain why so many republican newspapers are opposing him.

PRESS AND POLITICS.

"Progress" Is Expensive.

Appleton Post.—It is all very well for Candidate McGovern to say that the Wisconsin commissions are self-supporting and that the Madison government is economically administered, etc., but where does the money go, when it is brought out, as has been done lately that direct taxation in Wisconsin for the past two years, has amounted on an average to $4.65 annually for every man, woman and child in this state, or $22.30 for every family of five, against $2.08 cents per person or $10.40 per family of five in Iowa, and $1.88 per person or $9.40 per family of five in Illinois? Facts are stubborn things, and so are figures in this instance.

To The Finish.

Fond du Lac Reporter.—It must be a "pleasant" surprise for Republicans to receive Bull Moose campaign literature containing copies of the policies and campaign speeches of Gov. Francis E. McGovern, who not satisfied with clinching the republican nomination, also "copped" that of the Mooers and has aligned himself for all for all time with the latter. No wonder McGovern is having so much trouble trying to hold meeting under the guise of a Republican when he finds that the Mooers can't arrange one for him. Francis E. is certainly playing politics to a finish and if the signs are right he will be finished for good and all.

Stick To Their Party.

Lake Mills Leader.—If Taft Republicans vote for Wilson with the idea of eliminating Roosevelt they will only increase the size of Mr. Wilson's vote and help to make Colonel Roosevelt second in the race. This would leave him in virtual possession of the Republican party, which is the end he is striving for. The most effective way to prevent this is for Republicans to stick to their party and vote for Taft. If by so doing they do not succeed in electing him, they will at least insure Mr. Roosevelt third place and preserve the republican party for future years of usefulness.

Ignorant at That Game.

Marquette Eagle-Standard.—President Taft does not understand how to play to the galleries. He has no desire to do it. It is foreign to his nature. He does not know how to frame up and advocate constructive legislation for the good of the people. He is the kind of man that the nation sorely needs at this time to give it a wise and able administration of public affairs. The thoughtful voters of this country understand and appreciate the situation and will vote accordingly.

An Amazing Situation.

Wausau Record-Herald.—For the first time in its history, a governor of Wisconsin has visited Wausau, made a political speech, and said nothing about the party through the organization of which he became governor. On the same evening, the senior senator of the state, in his first speech of the campaign, also ignored the party which made him senator. Neither of these men would have ever risen above a small law practice in a small city if it had not been for the Republican party, which, having used it for their purpose, they now ignore. These are indeed perilous times in politics.

Those Passionate Sicilians.

Signor Grasso and the rest of the Sicilian players at the Hippodrome would electrify the most blasé player.

"La Zolfara" is their strong dramatic fare this week—the story of a foreman at one of the Sicilian sulphur mines, an overbearing man who tries to make love to the wife of the manager. A simulated friendship infuriates the husband, who suspects that he is the victim of treachery, both on the part of the mine foreman and his employer. He sets the mine on fire and murders the foreman.

Such is the story which Grasso and his company unfold with a force and directness that carry the audience with them through all the tense moments of the tragedy. The Sicilians are great!—London Daily News.

It Was Hereditary to Die.

Charles Johnston, author of "Why the World Laughs," just published, has in several cases shown how long is the life of an incongruous idea and how it reappears in new forms.

A modern Irishman, remarking that "it was hereditary in his family to have no children," was unconsciously parodying King Brian of Munster, who valiantly exclaimed that it was not hereditary in his family to surrender. But if he fought the black Norseman, he said, "he would either conquer them or die," and that he did not fear death, for his father had died, and his grandfather before them, and their father's fathers. Therefore, he concluded that it was hereditary in his family to die.

No Help Needed.

A little miss of five years who had been allowed to stay up for an evening party was told about 8:30 to go to bed.

Very, very slowly she moved toward the stairs. An aunt, seeing her reluctance, asked: "Helen, can I do anything to help you?" "No," replied Helen. "I will get there altogether too soon as it is."—Judge.

Forcing Acceptance.

"What are you doing with that mask and those gumshoes? Surely you are not going in for burglary?" "Sh!" responded Dustin Stax. "I am trying to slip a contribution into a candidate's campaign fund without his knowing anything about it."

STATE D. A. R. HONOR MRS. E. O. KIMBERLEY

Janesville Woman Who is Charter Member of National Society, is Accorded High Honor.

In Plymouth, Wis., last week, during one of the sessions of the 16th annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution, through the thoughtfulness of Janesville chapter and its regent, Mrs. Rebecca Jackson, it was voted unanimously to place the name of Mrs. Ada P. Kimberley (Mrs. E. O.) charter member of the national society, and for twenty years first-honorary state regent on the Roll of Honor book in Continental Memorial hall, Washington, D. C., by the payment of fifty dollars from the state treasury. This is the highest honor that can be conferred upon a Daughter of said organization by her state, and it comes as a complete surprise to Mrs. Kimberley, who appreciates it fully.

FOUND A SUPPOSED CLUE TO ROBBERS FLACIOUS

Young Men Who Came To Myers Hotel
Early Yesterday Morning
Were Residents of Elk horn.

Investigations made yesterday by Chief of Police George Schaller disclosed the fact that the three young men who came to the Myers hotel at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and whom it was thought might be the burglars who robbed the Moyer cigar store and Hough barber shop, were peaceful residents of Elkhorn, returning from camping. They are frequent visitors in this city. The police are continuing their investigation of the robbery.

Woman's Opinion of Her Lawyer.

A woman accused at Kent Assizes of obtaining credit by false pretenses was defended at the request of the court by one of the junior members of the bar. Asked in cross-examination why she had not put certain questions to one of the witnesses for the prosecution, she replied: "I have counsel appearing for me, or I should simply have pulverized the witness. I mean no disrespect to this young gentleman (indicating her counsel), and I believe he will be a very clever man presently." She was acquitted.—London Evening Standard.

Twelfth Century Pottery.

At the museum at Innsbruck, in Austria, there has been for a number of years a place of pottery in the form of a basin, which experts were unable to locate as to age. It has now been determined that it was made in the twelfth century, and the great bowl is remarkable more for the design which it bears on the inner side than for its age. It shows Alexander the Great riding in an airship, which is propelled by griffins. Alexander stands holding with a great red food over the heads of the griffins.

War and Automobiles.

If war is hell, so are automobiles driven by a drunken or fool man. War bathes sublime victories; automobiles, too. All through nature some kind of deadly war has been the main method of selecting the fittest for survival. Religion and love may in the future be the greatest raisers of the world, but speaking of the past, war has done most of all, for war has killed off a lot of savage men who would have held civilization back.—N. Y. Press.

Complaints have been sworn to and the warrants issued, and Ford and Cashman will be arraigned in the municipal court tomorrow morning. BULGARIANS HOPE TO TAKE ADRIANOPLE; WITH THAT POINT PASSED THEY WOULD ENCOUNTER NO OTHER IMPORTANT CITY ON ROAD TO TURKISH CAPITAL

At top, Turkish troops at Adrianople; bottom, Montenegrin soldiers in action. Map shows countries involved in war and positions of various armies. Except in the last battle with the Serbs, the Turkish armies are meeting with defeat. The Bulgarian army, 100,000 strong, is just outside Adrianople, the second city of the Ottoman empire. Adrianople's 200,000 defenders are fighting desperately for it, the city falls the allies will encounter no other city of importance on their march to Constantinople. Thus far the Bulgarians have suffered no defeats and have won several victories. The Greeks have been quite as victorious as the Bulgarians and are pouring into Turkey from the south. Montenegrin commanders have captured several Albanian towns, and in these have proclaimed the sovereignty of King Nicholas. The Serbian army has also been victorious but has suffered heavy losses.

Plant Trees.

All land owners should plant some kind of trees. There is always some waste land about the farm—some hillside or swamp that is not cultivated, which, if planted to some kind of timber, would soon return a profit and would also improve the looks of the farm, as nothing adds more to its beauty than a well-kept grove or woods pasture.

A Diagnosis.

While a popular New York bank official who prides himself on being a strict teetotaler, was stretched out on his bed, trying to make about "forty winks" his little boy came into the room, thoughtfully surveyed his father from head to foot, and then remarked: "Mother, he's either very drunk or very sick."

Ready.

Lord Granard was once visiting some of his tenants. One of the farms he visited contained a large assortment of live stock in a more than usually healthy state, and halting before a sty he said to the owner: "Those pigs of yours are in very fine condition." "Yes," agreed the proud farmer, "if we were all as ready to die as them, my lord, we'd do."

Showing World's Progress.

The average Frenchman of to-day can at a smaller price have much better wine than the wealthy Frenchman of the fifteenth or sixteenth century, and this is made possible by the fact that wine is nowadays kept largely in bottles, while in the past only casks were used. Even at the table of Louis XV. wine was rarely served in bottles.

Good Word for the Departed.

It is said by the author of a recent volume of biography, that his verdict on the great of his chosen period is much that of the New Hampshire parson at the highly approved funeral of a parishioner: "Brethren, we must agree that our deceased friend was mean in some things, but let us in Christian charity allow that he was meaner in others."

Something to Be Thankful For.

It's pretty tough to be poor, not to use a stronger expression, but when one reads of the many accidents by land and sea in which so many are said to sudden death a man ought to feel thankful sometimes that he is out in the country pulling the bell, like over old Balaam.—Sylvania Telephone.

Store Built of Paper.

A store in Atlanta, Ga., has been built entirely of paper. The rafters, weather-boards, roof and flooring are all made of thick, compressed paper boards, impervious to water. On account of the surface of the paper being smooth and hard, it cannot catch fire as easily as a wooden building. It is found warm in cold weather and cool in hot weather.

Limit of Contumely.

Two little negro boys were having a row in Bridgetown, Barbados. The insults that were being hurled at each other were finally clinched by the following remark: "Yo—why, yo mo's black enuff to go naked to a funeral."—Sunday Magazine—Los Angeles Herald.

SENATOR WALTER C. OWEN PREDICTS G. O. P. VICTORY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—Senator Walter C. Owen of Maiden Rock, republican candidate for attorney general in Madison yesterday, declared that republican victory by a big majority is indicated on election day.

"I believe the vote will be much larger than has been expected," I said. "The sentiment throughout the state is tending steadily to the republican ticket. The people are waking up to the fact that the issue in this campaign is reactionary or progressive government. The question is the same as that when David S. Rose opposed Senator La Follette for governor. The people are beginning to learn that the democrats are talking income tax and state expenditures merely for the purpose of making their attack on the effective Wisconsin regulation and control of big interests."

"The gross misrepresentations made by the democratic speakers concerning state expenses and the income tax are acting with great force, and the people are learning that no confidence whatever can be placed in their statements."

The statement made at Milwaukee by Harry Bolens, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, that as a lobbyist he had appeared against 281 bills in the last legislature, correctly gauges the capacity of the present democratic organization in Wisconsin for constructive statesmanship, and is in line with their platform."

REGULAR REST DAY NOW GIVEN FIREMEN

Have Twenty-four Hours Off Every Seven Days—System Started Last Wednesday.

Two men will be off duty each day, but never more than one man from each of the three fire stations. Chief Kline has not yet perfected the system but it is in working order. Two extra paid men will be required to do the relieving, but they have not yet been appointed. Probationers are now being employed for that purpose. Firemen now share with the policemen the privilege of a weekly day of rest. The policemen were put on a regular holiday basis over two months ago.

The Wrong Catalogue.
Recently a party of tourists were visiting the Louvre. By mistake one of the tired number carried a catalogue of the Luxembourg. Upon being confronted by a fantastically modern nude study with a black cat in the background, she turned to the corresponding number and complacently announced to the astonished listeners: "This is Whistler's mother."—Brooklyn Life.

As It Looked to Her.
To my little daughter of three the dawning of each new day was a constant marvel and surprise. Going to an east window, she would look out quickly and exclaim: "Mamma, the sky's open again!" One morning there was a heavy fog, and when Beatrice went to the window she cried in great alarm: "Come, quick! Come, quick! The sky's coming down the road."—Woman's Home Companion.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

WOLF FANGS.

Ever read "White Fang," Jack London's companion story to his "Call of the Wild?"

The latter story, you will remember, shows how a dog gently reared, having been stolen from the Klondike sledge trail and most cruelly treated, escaped to the wolves and became as savage as they. White Fang shows the opposite—the force of kindness and good surroundings.

Briefly, this is the tale: White Fang is part wolf. He fights from mere inherent love of fighting and is savagely cruel. He falls into the hands of Weedon Scott, a master whose kindness to the vicious brute seems thrown away. Scott persists in his steady gentleness and finally finds the one soft spot under the hide of the little beast.

The discovery is made thus: The master leaves the wolf dog for a few days. Although hitherto White Fang never has responded to Scott's kindness, when the latter leaves the dog pines and refuses to eat. What is more, significant, he refuses to fight. When Scott returns the dog meets him, trembling, and miracle of miracles—

The wolf is wagging his tail! Which means that White Fang is conquered, civilized, saved. Redeemed by the power of kindness, the tail wagging, signifies eternal friendship and devotion on the part of the dog.

Parents—If a wolf dog, hardened by mistreatment, can be converted by persistent kindness, how much easier it may be to change a rebellious child and melt and transform it by gentleness.

Cannot you be as patient toward your child as was Weedon Scott to a hybrid beast? Is not your child worth more than a wolf dog?

And teacher—There is in you the divine power to mold and fashion with tenderness the lives of children, some of whom come to you from wolfish haunts and homes. Use that power.

And everybody—Our blundering day talks of tariffs and finance and conservation as if they were the great problems of government.

No! The problem of government, its real duty, is to lift up the lives of the poor, the wolfishly reared and the neglected. When this world of ours shall have been made as good a place in which to live, for all men, women and children, as for some unfortunate dogs—why, then, and not until then, shall we make boast of our civilization.

The disturbance in the East has scarcely moved during the past 24 hours, and is still over New England and the adjacent ocean. It has continued raly in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. Gales are reported on the Maine coast.

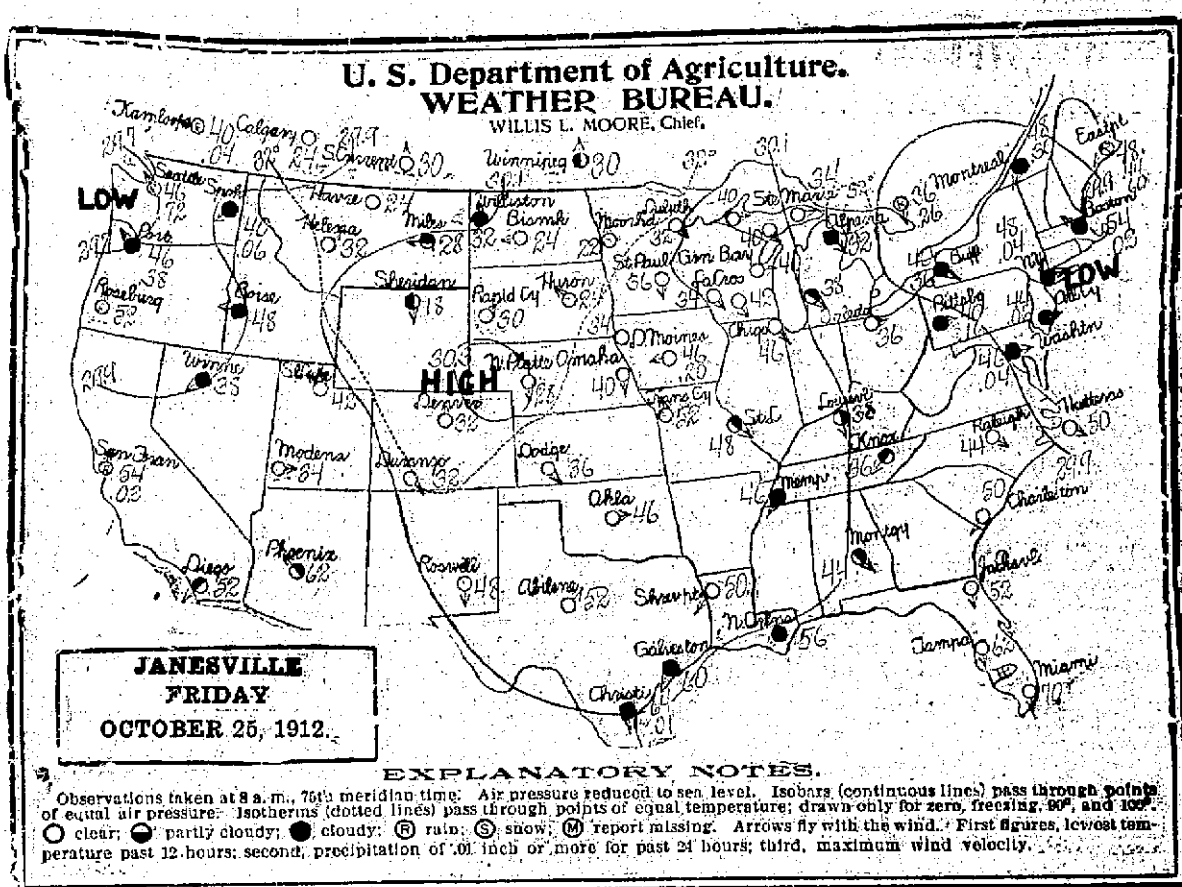

It is generally fair throughout the interior of the country. Frosts are reported in the Ohio valley and low cold Lake Region, and freezing temperatures prevail in the Northwest. A barometric depression is approaching the north Pacific coast, and causing rains in the Columbia Basin, and on the California coast as far as San Francisco.

Love Greater Than Truth.

You throw yourself away in black, bitter, brutal antipathies and aversions. You with your truth are untrue before false majorities with their lie. Why? I ask it over and over again. Why? And I repeat it after you: Why? And I say: Because the truth never confutes and convinces. Only love confutes and convinces. The best way to get and keep an enemy is to be an enemy.—Horace Traubel, in Conservator.

VOTE FOR MCGOVERN
ENDORSES COLONEL?

'Civitas' Suggests a Matter Which Senator La Follette Might Clear Up in Address Saturday Night.

Editor Gazette:
Some of us would like to have La Follette explain in his speech tomorrow night how McGovern can be a progressive while running for governor, and yet be a full blown La Follette. He has told us, time and again, that the big bull is emphatically not a progressive and that his policies are not truly progressive. How, then, can McGovern, who endorses the Bull, and his policies, be a true progressive? Or does progressivism mean "one thing on national issues and the opposite on state issues?" Please enlighten us, Senator. How can we vote for McGovern without implicitly expressing approval of Roosevelt? Or must we vote for him simply to preserve the integrity of your organization in this state? It looks as though that might be the true inwardness of your "support" of McGovern. How about it?
"CIVITAS."

See Always the Bright Side.
We must somehow get joy out of the pain of life. We must see the beauty and the wonder of the world misery. We must admire the evil as we admire the good. We must lick the dust with the homage that we pay the heavens. We must realize the sweet in struggle, in defeat, in destitution.

FISHER POET OF PASSION SAYS SINGER
WHO SUES HIM FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Gertrude Hassler and Carl Fisher.

Carl Fischer of Indianapolis, who built a motor speedway, made a fortune with an automobile lighting device, and is just now dreaming of an ocean-to-ocean highway, is a poet of passion. It has recently developed. Gertrude Hassler, a contralto of some renown, who is suing Fisher for $500,000 damages for breach of promise, has produced in an Indiana court some extremely tender love poems addressed to her which she says were written by Fisher. In these he promises to be true till the end of time, etc., etc. Miss Hassler estimates Fisher's fortune at $2,000,000 and will be satisfied with a quarter of it. Fisher's friends say he has plenty of evidence to defend the suit.

Wanderings in Decapolis. Mark vii:31-viii:10.

"Golden Text"—He hath done all things well; he maketh both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak. Mark vii:37.

(1.) Verse 31—Describe the route Jesus took from the coast of Tyre and Sidon to the sea of Galilee.

(2.) Why did Jesus stay so short a time in one place?

(3.) Verses 32-35—What is the extent of the loss borne by one who is both deaf and dumb?

(4.) What is being done and what more can be done for the deaf and dumb of this country than we are doing?

(5.) Why did Jesus use such an elaborate process in curing this man when most of his other miracles were so simple?

(6.) Would you say that Jesus used these signs as the only way to convey to the patient what he was going to do for him? Why?

(7.) Why did Jesus perform this miracle in private when most of his other miracles were done in public?

(8.) Did Jesus perform this miracle by his own innate power or by the power of God in answer to his "looking up into heaven"?

(9.) Should we bring our sick ones to Jesus today in expectation that he will heal them or should we use the means to that end which God has given us in nature?

(10.) Verse 36—Which is the greater sinner, and why, he who tells things God wishes not to be made known or he who keeps to himself what he ought to publish abroad?

(11.) Why did Jesus want this miracle kept secret?

(12.) Disobedience always results in evil. What evil results probably came from this act of disobedience to Jesus' command?

(13.) Verse 37—If our historic vision of this miracle were as acute as that of the eyewitnesses what would our estimate of it be?

(14.) Mention if you can any word or act of Jesus which would prevent you from saying, "He hath done all things well."

(15.) What man in all history stirs today the most astonishment, and why, is it so? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(16.) viii:1-4—What evidence is there that the feeding of the four thousand is not a variation of the account of the feeding of the five thousand?

(17.) What reason is there to suppose that Jesus sympathizes with those in need today as he did in that day?

(18.) Notwithstanding that God does not supply our needs now miraculously, does he supply them surely and may we absolutely trust him for the future? Why?

(19.) What class of people formed this multitude?

(20.) What shape does Christ's "compassion on the multitude" take today?

(21.) Is time spent in the service of Christ ever forgotten by him and is it ever profitless? Why?

(22.) Verse 5—What proof is there that our ability, our opportunity and our resources are ample for our full duty?

(23.) Verses 6-10—What are the advantages of system and order in both our sacred and secular matters?

(24.) What better is food after it has been "blessed" than before?

FOOTVILLE FACTORY
BEGINS OPERATIONS ON NOVEMBER FIRST

Footville Condensed Milk Company Ready to Start Evaporation—'Reception a Big Success.'

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Footville, Oct. 25.—The Footville Condensed Milk Company whose new plant has just been completed, expects to start the evaporation of milk on November first. The company's product will be known as the Golden Key brand. M. R. Ham will be superintendent at the factory which will assure an economical operation as well as a first class product. Mr. Ham was formerly with the Borden condensed milk company under the late

NEW FOOTVILLE CONDENSED MILK FACTORY.

C. D. Chewning, one of the greatest milk experts of America.

The new building with the equipment all in place, was open to the public yesterday and a large gathering of farmers from all over the western part of the county spent the afternoon at the factory looking over the building and its modern apparatus.

Rev. F. Halset Ambrose of Footville gave an address of welcome to the visitors on behalf of the Denmark construction company which has had the work in charge, also for the milk company and the citizens of Footville. M. A. Fee managing director of the construction company and H. H. Ham, master mechanic, also gave short addresses as well as local business men. The Thompson's orchestra of Madison gave a delightful program of music throughout the afternoon and evening.

The milk condensing company was formed less than a year ago by Footville business men and farmers who were interested in the upbuilding of the village and the prosperity of the community. They were fortunate in securing the Denmark construction company whose sole business it is to build, equip and sell the output of evaporated milk plants.

Work was begun as soon as possible after the organization of the company and the sale of the requisite amount of stock. As a business enterprise it promises a great deal for Footville and vicinity and will do much to encourage the dairy industry in Rock county. There are a number of farmers who are stockholders in the company and from the number who have already signed their intentions of becoming patrons of the factory the success of the industry is assured from the start.

Duty Too Often Forgotten.

There is no duty we so much uprate as the duty of being happy.—R. L. Stevenson.

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH,
DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles While Backache and Bladder Disorders Disappear After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torments of backache or rheumatism will bother you no more.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right in through the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sit from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition, so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. Pills, tablets and other medicines merely stimulate the kidneys, at the best, giving only temporary relief. Croxone removes the cause. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

Women at Thirty.

Women begin to be socially tolerable at 30, and improve until the deepening of their consciousness is checked by the decay of their faculties. But they begin to be pretty much earlier than 30, and are indeed sometimes at their best in that respect long before their chattering is, apart from the illusions of sex, to be preferred in serious moments to the silent sympathy of an intelligent pet animal.—Shaw.

Saving One Storm.

When a certain Atchison man visits another town, his wife complains and so does his mother. Therefore, in order to avoid it, he says he is going out to get shaved and doesn't return until the visit is over. When he returns there is a storm, but under the old plan there were two storms, one before he went and another after his return.—Atchison Globe.

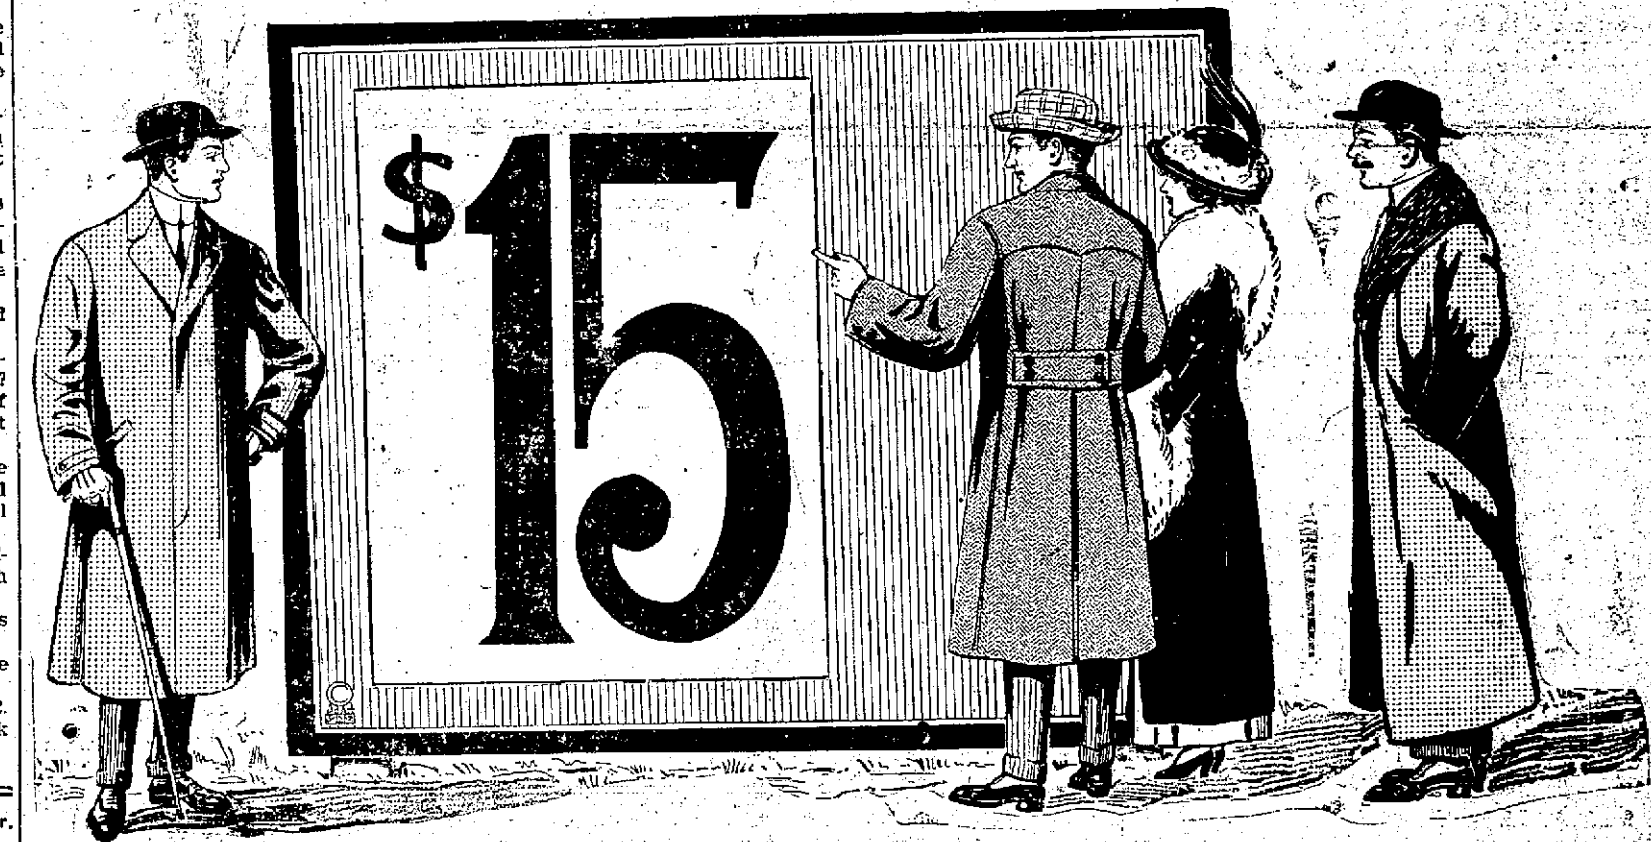

Preposterous.

She took her father's last summer suit, cut off one of the legs of the trousers, and thus provided herself with a skirt. From a worn-out linen handkerchief she secured enough material for the waist she desired. Then she found an old bath towel and converted it into a hat for herself. Yet the young man who loved her was warned by his mother that the girl did not have proper ideas of economy.

Chinese Currency.

Business transactions between Chinese merchants and foreign firms are usually in taels. The tael is not a coin, but a Chinese ounce of silver. It varies in different places both as to weight and "touch" (or fineness), and the exchange between the tael and the dollar, or between the former and the copper coinage is constantly fluctuating.

REHBERG'S

YOU can get suits here now at $15 that no one else around here can equal at less than $18—It's an easy matter for you to prove it. Take up the matter of woollens first. There are the finest tweeds, fancy and plain worsteds, superior chevlots—the type of yardage that was woven for $18 and $20 suits. Take up the matter of making, note the fine touches of skill, the careful, painstaking manner in which these suits are tailored, the "finishing" that count for fit, style, permanency, service. There are grays, browns, blacks, fancy blue, fancy stripes, dark mixtures. Measure these suits "point for point" inside and out, from the standpoint of the layman or the expert—you'll find them the best $18 suits on record and yet the price is but $15. You are not asked to take these statements on faith—investigate, compare, examine them thoroughly. These suits at $15 deserve your instant attention. Ask for a Rehberg Royal Suit.

There's "atmosphere" in clothing as well as anything else—a "dashy," lively, "something" that only a few makers know how to produce. The Michaels-Stern and Hirsch-Wickwire creations are clothes of this type, they're the finest clothes made in America—there's a lot of "go" to them—a world of style—the right sort of individual fit. The woollens are the kind that only "the old world" knows how to weave. We know that when you once buy a Michaels-Stern or Hirsch-Wickwire suit, you'll never be convinced that any others are "just as good"—no others are. At $20, $25, $30 and up to $35.

It's just as wise to have your heavy overcoat bought and ready for service now as it is to put an October 1st steam clause in your lease—you may not need it at once but when you do you'll need it badly. You've never seen here so large and fine a stock as we're showing now—all the newer ideas—shawl collars, belted backs, inverted plaits, kimono sleeves—every smart characteristic. Heavy, comfortable coats that will make you feel warm as a "bug in a rug"—coats made for service—protection no matter how low the mercury may slide. At $15, $18, $20, $25, $30, $35.

Whether your price for a hat be $2 or as much as $5 you'll find the right style here and a value of a superior character. Fall shirts of unusual beauty at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00—you're sure to admire them. Union suits $1.00 to $3.50.

GAS, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION VANISH

Just as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach, all distress is gone. TO OBSERVE SUNDAY TUBERCULOSIS DAY

Dr. Beaton Will Have Something Important to Say on Matter of Health in Sunday Address

Dr. David Beaton, pastor of the Congregational church, will have something important to say in regard to health in his Sunday morning sermon. Next Sunday will be observed throughout the country as "The Tuberculosis Day," and a number of ministers will speak in regard to public health on this occasion. Rev. Beaton in announcing his subject says: "The Anti-Tuberculosis Association of Wisconsin has furnished facts as to the condition of the 'great white plague' in our midst. The president of our nation has endorsed the crusade as of capital importance to health of the people. The Health Officer of our own town informs us that the Local Committee having this matter in charge, covers the general field for the protection of the public health, and so, the subject will be treated on those broad lines. I will consider the laws affecting public sanitation, contagious diseases and the menace to the community of those who by carelessness or fanaticism oppose measures for the protection of the public health. As the whole matter is closely associated not only with the domestic safety of our children but also the moral of our youth, it demands the serious consideration of the whole people."

HALLOWE'EN FAVORS OF MANY VARIETIES

In Anticipation of the Night When 'Goblins Troop and Maidens Hope.

Hallowe'en, the night when "goblins will get you if you don't watch out," is approaching and never were the favors for this festive occasion more varied. Fanciful designs with the pumpkin as the motive lead in popularity. If the style in decorations and favors are an indication, there are few who would surmise that the night is to be a feature of the month-end holiday, for pumpkins, horns and rattles, are plentiful among the novelties to be found in Janesville shops. There also are pumpkin nut holders—the nut meats to be removed and the shells to be filled with a fortune or a bit of nonsense rhyme—for table decorations and pumpkin caps to be worn upon fair heads when their owners are inviting the fates to foretell the future. Looking glass upon a standard with a tiny candle in front of it is for the maiden who would walk backward down the dark stairs at midnight wooing her true love to show his face in the mirror. In this case it would have to be a "wee sma' laddie" as the mirrors are scarce an inch in diameter.

For place cards there are innumerable witches weird enough to brew the loathsome witches' brew of Macbeth fame. Black cats with arched backs and long tails or simple pictures, lacy as to color but kindly as to disposition, are in evidence. Mephisto receptacles for nuts or candies are the "diel bliss" so closely do they portray his satanic majesty as we imagine him to be. Grab bags of white net are ready to be placed in dark corners or beneath the table where each guest can put in her hand and pull out ground, yellow pumpkin favor. Boats with pumpkins aloft on their sails in which the names of true lovers may be fastened upon the waters to ascertain if they will remain in couples are among the new methods of testing the fidelity of ones "really truly." Meantime the small boys, like the crabs of old, are hunting for the regular old style fake pumpkins and are carving triangle noses and big round eyes and saw teeth in them through which the light of a candle may shine and make a face that it warranted even to scare the boggy man himself.

Are You Subject to Constipation?

Here is a Simple Way of Correcting It Instantly Before It Becomes Chronic.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salt waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary relief in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

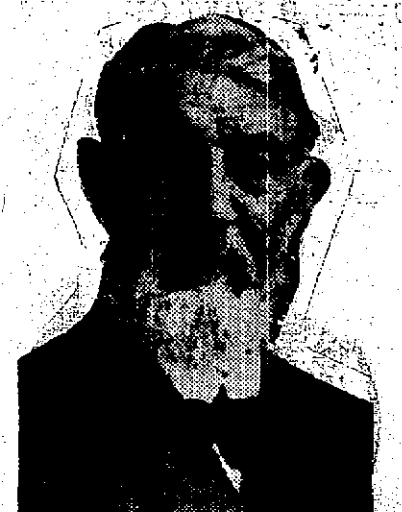

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary; and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind the name of a fruit or vegetable, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsees of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house. Like the famous Dr. O. P. Miller, Baroda, Mich., and Mrs. Peter W. Lichtenberger, New Harmony, Ind. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-gripping. Unlike harsh physics it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle of any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin, and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address: a postal will go to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 413 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

ONE KIND OF SLAVERY.

DO YOU exist for your house or does your house exist for you? The other day I went to call on a woman who has just moved into a beautiful new house. She has been planning and working for the change many years and it is indeed a handsome building. But I do not have any trouble to keep from breaking the tenth commandment in my thoughts of her. Indeed no. On the contrary I am sorry for her. For she is so obsessed by her worship of that house that she exists to serve it instead of subserving it to her pleasure and comfort, and making a real home of it.

Let me give you a few illustrations. The bathroom in her new house—I refuse to call it a home—is exquisite. It is all white and blue and the fixtures are copper. Now to keep these fixtures bright, their owner says, takes her exactly one hour and a half three times a week. That's four hours and a half a week. And yet my friend said proudly, "Some lovely people called on us when we first came but I simply haven't had time to return their call."

Again, there is a brand new gas range in the kitchen. It has every convenience of attachment that modern ingenuity can devise and it was absolutely spotless. My friend is a notable housekeeper but the immaculateness of this was wonderful even for her and I said so. "Well, you see," she explained, "I hardly use it at all because I hate to get it muddled up. I have my old range down cellar and I do most of my cooking there." And yet my hostess told me that she didn't know when she had been so tired as this fall. She thought it was the bad weather.

It was very warm day when I called and yet not a window in any of the chambers was open. "We haven't had the windows open any more than we could possibly help this summer," she explained. "You know that lets in the dust and this white woodwork soils so easily."

It is a good thing to have beautiful possessions, but it is not a good thing to be possessed by them.

Perhaps you think I have been telling of an exaggerated case. An extreme case, I grant you, but not an exaggerated one, for every word is true. Houses are meant for homes, not for slaves. They are meant to live in, not to be enslaved by. Few women make such slaves of themselves as this one, but many in greater or less degree put the home above those who live in it.

Do you?

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 22 and have been in love with a young man since I was 15. We parted four years ago, each promising to try for our future and our reunion. We have been corresponding and his love does not seem changed, only he has promised several times to come out west, as he is in the east; and in the very next letter he has plans all changed. The excuse he gives is that he wants to establish a business before he comes west. Is it my place to go to him or should nothing keep him from coming to me?

DOUBTFUL. If the young man can afford it he should come to you; but if he is too busy or can't afford the trip, he should send you a railroad ticket to join him. If you do the latter, it would be best to take a relative or some close friend with you if possible.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—We are two girls friends 16 and 17. We are considered striking brunettes and have excellent complexions. What colors would be most suitable for us? (2)—Is it healthy to wear summer underwear during the winter months? (3)—I am in love with a married man. I cannot see him without blushing and getting excited. How can I control my emotion? (4)—Are we too young to go to the theatre with young men? (5)—Is there any home remedy for reducing big hips? (6)—I am slightly awkward. What can I do to become more graceful?

CHUMS. (1)—Red, brown to match your eyes, some shades of blue; golden and pink tints for the evening. (2)—It is better to wear a little warmer quality with higher neck and long sleeves. (3)—I should think you would blush at the very thought of being in love with a married man! during class time.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it

WARM MUFFLERS FOR CHILDREN.Take a yard (or as long as desired) of good cotton flannel—some pattern that has a pretty stripe in it. Cut it lengthwise so as to make three or four mufflers. They can be hemmed with a very narrow hem along the sides and a deep hem across the bottom; or a buttonhole stitch may be worked along the sides. The goods cost very little and it makes a number of fine warm mufflers for children when going to school, and they look very neat. Mrs. Danher.

Then wash in warm soap suds; wring out, rinse in clear water, then in bluing then starch and hang out to dry. Iron as soon as dry if you have time.

Remember never to put more than one curtain in the tub when rubbing on the board and always fold them when taking them off the line. Follow this and they will last twice as long as if rubbed and boiled the old way; will be less work and curtains much whiter. Miss M. Grimm.

The KITCHEN CABINET

SUGGESTIONS AND HINTS.

When making pastry, a few reminders will be helpful. Have every utensil and all the materials cold; cut in the lard with a knife or rub in quickly with the tips of the fingers. When adding the water, have it cold, and add too little rather than too much, for too wet pastry needs more flour and always results in a tough crust. Handle it as little as possible, roll it quickly and lightly and if the proportions are good, a tender, flaky crust will reward your labor. A good hot oven is necessary for pastry.

A teaspoonful of hot honey is a fine cough remedy. Also red pepper tea, which may be mixed with milk instead of water, and does not seem quite so fiery.

Putting on children's overshoes, unless large and loose, is a troublesome matter. Keep a shoe horn handy and see how easily they slip on.

Charcoal is a splendid odor absorber. Keep in the ice chest, in cupboards where there is any dampness, and renew it occasionally. The old need not be thrown away, for it will start the fire just as well as if it hadn't been used for a purifier.

Ants will not return where tartar emetic has been sprinkled. It is poisonous, and must be kept away from pots and food.

When starting a hot air furnace, and the heat refuses to go up certain pipes, open a window in the room to make a draft and the heat quickly follows.

To clean real lace, sprinkle it with French chalk or calcined magnesite and let it lie under a weight for several days, then shake it out and it will be found quite clean.

Slip the shoes when packing into stockings legs, the white ones in white stockings and other colors to correspond, then they are kept free from other things and are easily found when needed.

Dry bran is an excellent cleanser. Delicate suits, furs and rugs, if scoured with it and then are well brushed, are wonderfully freshened by the bran bath.

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN

What Does Your Home Express?

RUSKIN says, "If you have sense and feeling, determine what sort of house will be fit for you; determine to work for it, to get it, and to die in it, if the Lord will. I mean one that you can entirely enjoy and manage; but which you will not be proud of, except as you make it charming in its modesty."

Nearly everybody has planned the kind of home he wants. Some have got it. But whether it is a reality or only a dream, have you ever stood off and studied it as an expression of yourself, and discovered thereby just what sort of person you are?

Some of us want a house that is very artistic. It must have casement windows, and the steam radiators must be put out of sight, they are so ugly, and there must be open doorways and beautiful vistas. It may be very lovely, but the probability is that it will be somewhat uncomfortable. And doesn't this point to the fact that we are just a trifle impractical?

Others of us furnish our house with everything modern. We have Mission furniture and rugs and squat pottery. The queer-looking little Dresden shepherdess that mother likes, or the photographs of Uncle Jim with a long beard and of Aunt Molly with spit curls, that she is so fond of, are altogether out of keeping among such furnishings. And so they are banished. We are very up-to-date and progressive and sanitary, but aren't we also a little cold and unsympathetic? Might we not have tucked that shepherdess in a corner somewhere, just to gratify mother? A bit of sentiment isn't altogether a bad possession. It gives an atmosphere of charm to a home quite as attractive as modern furniture.

Then some of us pick out carpets that will wear, and curtains that won't fade and dishes that won't break—if we can find them; and we won't raise the curtains for fear the sun will shine on the carpet, and we won't open the doors and windows because the dust will come in, and we make John nearly wear the soles off his shoes wiping them, for fear he track a mile of mud in. And such of us who do these things are rather closely related to Martha, aren't we, who failed to choose the better part?

Then, some of us fill every nook and corner with souvenirs picked up in every place we go, and with bargains found in every store we visit. Our home has neither harmony nor design nor order nor system. And if we look from it to ourselves, don't we find our life lived in somewhat the same haphazard and unsystematic fashion?

Then, some of us let the sun shine in, and we fill all our windows with flowers, and leave the piano open, and put magazines and books all about, and choose pictures, every one of which inspires or cheers or sets to dreaming, and have soft, fat sofa cushions that can be used, and big, easy chairs, and a dainty, sparkling table, and a spotless, workmanlike kitchen. And isn't the mistress of such a home a cheery, bright, alert woman, and the master, a smiling, happy man, and the children healthy, loving youngsters?

A house is more than brick and stone and wood and mortar. It is a voice, speaking to the world with a voice that tells more truly what you are than the words of your mouth.

Barbara Boyd.

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS

Edna K. Woolley

THAT BIG APRON.

"I like to see my wife rolled up in her best rags," said a young married man the other day, "but I love to see her wearing one of those big, clean gingham aprons—the kind that come over the shoulders, you know, and fasten with a couple of buttons in the back."

"Say, I always liked her from the start, but I guess I really fell in love with her the first time I saw her in one of those aprons."

"I happened to drop in one evening when her mother was sick and the hired girl gone. She had her sleeves rolled up and one of those big gingham aprons on, and she was so jolly and capable, and she bossed her father and me around in such a nice way, that I fell for her on the spot. And I haven't regretted it since."

"Why don't the women wear aprons any more, anyway?" he queried. "They used to when I was a boy. Now, there was mother. Why, mother didn't look real natural to me without an apron on—at least, when she was in the house. Her street clothes made her look sort of stiff and formal, and when she was dressed up, from her best I had to keep away from her for fear of spoiling something."

"But when mother had on her apron—Oh, say! I could climb in her lap and I could hug her and I could stand around as close as I wanted to, no matter where I'd been or how dirty I'd got. I could dump anything into her lap when she had that apron on, from marbles to a family of kittens."

"I've wiped molasses off my mouth on mother's apron when she wasn't looking. I've dried my tears on a corner of it. It's done for a towel, too, when one wasn't handy."

"I can't think of mother without that apron. Somehow she was most of a mother to me when she had it on. There wasn't anything formal between us. I could bury my head in the folds of that big apron and 'fess up my sins, when if mother'd had on her black silk I'd just have slid away somewhere and hid and been afraid to tell her anything."

"Oh yes, I got spanked lying across those aproned knees. But that was all a part of the game. She never hit very hard, anyway."

"Mother was a handsome woman and I was proud of her when she was all dressed up. But somehow she was beautiful to me just the way she dressed in the house. Mother didn't wear any of those fancy loose kimono things. She'd been ashamed to. But she always had her house dresses cut low in the neck to show the place where the angel kissed her, as Dad said, with a little white lace sewed in. And she always wore those blue-and-white checked aprons that go over the shoulders and fasten with two buttons in the back. I know, for many's the time I've had the privilege of fastening them."

"It's nice to see so many women dressed up all the time," finished the young married man. "But there's something missing about them to me. They don't have the real comfy, homey look—the kind a boy needs—all his life."

WHITE BREAD MOST NUTRITIOUS.

A committee of the English local government board, which has recently completed a study of the food value of bread, reports, like the experts of our department of agriculture, that white bread is more nutritious than whole wheat bread. The experts report that the bran of whole wheat bread is not only indigestible but interferes with the digestion of other foods. This is likely to mislead the average reader. It is true that a smaller percentage of the whole wheat bread is digested than of the white bread and that the white bread therefore contains a larger percentage of digestible matter, but this is a material objection to the white bread, especially when fresh, since it masses more readily, preventing the access of the digestive juices and is therefore more liable to ferment. The common argument against white bread that it has been despoiled of some of the mineral elements of food, all of which are found in the entire wheat, is not material, when milk is taken with bread, but if one were to live on bread the entire wheat would undoubtedly be the better. The worst kind of bread is, fresh bread.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 25, 1872.—After long years of struggling and weary efforts and discouraging delay at last the important section of road between Monroe, the terminus of the Southern Wisconsin division and Dubuque on the west bank of the Mississippi river is to be completed. Yesterday the section between here and Shullsburg about thirty miles or one-half of the whole distance from Monroe to Dubuque was let to efficient contractors who will proceed at once to start work. The backers of this project are the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. In the course of 1872 the entire line will be completed to Dubuque where this road can join connections with the Dubuque and Pacific railroads, already completed 300 miles west of that city. The company which built the great bridge over the Mississippi at that point is compelled by its charter to grant facilities to other railroads to cross the bridge equal to those now granted to the Illinois Central Railroad. This provision becomes very important as it will enable the Monroe and Dubuque railroad to construct its depot within Dubuque city limits. This road when constructed, will bring an enormous business here from central Iowa in the form of wheat, corn, and pork, and invite the return of merchandise from our warehouses. For over twelve years the inhabitants of southern Wisconsin have longed for the completion of this road, and now they are to see its fulfillment.

Oh, William and Woodrow and Ted! How tired they must be of the noise, of painting geography red, and handing out facts to the boys! How tired they must be of suspense, of rumors and roboracks and rot, debating the whiteness of whence, and also the blueness of what! How weary and sick are they all, expounding to thickheaded goats why they're for or forfornist the recall, and why they are rushing for votes. Oh, William and Teddy and Wood, whose colors are nailed to the mast! No matter which one's to the good when votes have been counted at last, there's nothing but trouble in store, there's nothing but grief and despair, there's nothing but walking the floor and thinking up words fit to swear! I wonder why people will strain and break their suspenders to get a job that will drive them insane with worry and woe and regret. The honors don't pay for the grief! I'd rather go fishing. I swear than live in the White House as chief, with trouble enthroned on my brow. Oh, Woody and Teddy and Bill! When the sounds of the conflict subside, and the roar of the captains is still, and the toll is thrown in with the hide, then cut out political strife, the uproar, confusion and noise, retire from the strenuous life, and live like the rest of the boys.

Those born today will be of unsettled disposition, and some will appear to have two natures, which are opposite. They should not be trained with the crowd, but their talents and faults should be carefully considered. Under a teacher of no judgment these children will often develop wonderful creative genius. How to Give Quick Strength to Nerves

A New Treatment Without Narcotics, Alcohol, Opium or Mineral Drugs.

The day of temporary stimulants for nerve-weakness of the nervous system is gone forever. Narcotics and intoxicants for this purpose have had their day. Science, always to the rescue, has given us a treatment of remarkable and lasting efficacy, absolutely safe and prompt in results. It can only be appreciated by actual trial.

This remedy, Wade's Golden Nerve, contains no alcohol, morphine, opium or narcotic whatever. It is purely vegetable in its ingredients. It has the peculiar property of being splendidly soothing and quieting to the nervous system, yet being in no sense a sedative, and is a powerful up-building restorative tonic.

If you are run-down, exhausted, brain-fagged, irritated, suffer from insomnia, melancholy, lack of energy and vitality, Wade's Golden Nerve will make you feel stronger, brighter, fresher and more vigorous than a long vacation.

Wade's Golden Nerve is sold at all drug stores, at $1.00 a liberal-size package, or sent on receipt of price, by the Gen. Medicine Company, St. Louis, Mo. It will save you money for it will build up your strength as nothing else can.

Wade's Golden Nerve is sold in Jamesville by J. P. Baker & Son.

Papa Did the Rest.

Odd evidence against an inattentive schoolboy was delivered to the parents of an urchin the other day by his teacher. It seems that while the history class was in session the youth, instead of paying attention to his teacher, was looking up toward the ceiling with his mouth wide open dreaming. The teacher did not disturb him until after he had drawn a sketch of him in that position. After the class was dismissed the teacher mailed the sketch to the parents, adding a caption which explained all. Next day the boy was unusually alert.

QUIT CALOMEL

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, Olive-oil calomel tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these valuable little tablets. They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

separated, the priest and Sanchez going down the hill and the young man starting to walk up. Then quickly leaving the ancient, circular structure for observation, she stepped toward the cliff, not far to the right; and in an attitude of as great unconcern as she could summon, waited.

Below the ocean beat around the rock, and her eyes seemed to have rested an interminable period on the dark surface of the water, when at length she heard him; near at hand, directly behind. Still she did not stir; he, too, by the silence, stood motionless. How long? The little foot moved restlessly; why did he not speak? She knew he was looking at her—the Governor's daughter who had inadvertently looked into a forbidden chamber; was possessed of dangerous knowledge.

Again she made a movement. When was he going to speak? It was intolerable that he should stand there, studying, deducing? That she, accustomed to command; to be served; to have her way at court and Mount, should now be judged, passed upon, disposed of, by—whom? Quickly she looked around; the flashing brown eyes met the steady black ones.

"Well?"

"The man will take you back." His manner was quiet; composed; implied a full cognizance of what she knew,

"Why did you do that?" It was Lady Elsie who now spoke, lifting her head haughtily to regard the newcomer, as she stepped toward him. "Cross yourself, I mean."

"This good fellow, my Lady, is surprised to see you here, and small wonder he forgets his manners!" said the young man coolly, speaking for the other. "But he is honest enough—and intends no disrespect!"

"None whatever!" muttered the intruder, a thin, wizened, yet still active looking person.

My lady did not reply; her gaze, in which suspicion had become conviction, again met the young man's, whose black eyes now gleamed with a sudden, challenging light.

"With your permission, my Lady, I will speak with this fellow," he said, and abruptly strode from the tower; walked a short distance away, followed by the man, when he stopped.

"Certain, your tongue betrayed you that time, Sanchez!" he said, confronting the other.

The man made a rough gesture. "C'est vrai!" regretfully. "But when I saw you two together I thought I had seen a—"

"And I knew what it meant." The old servant looked over his shoulder toward the tower.

"Call it magic!" with a short laugh. "Diablerie!" muttered the other.

"Well, have your way! Why, abruptly, 'did you not meet me here last night at high tide, as we had planned?'"

"The priest came not in time; fearing he was watched, waited until night to leave his hiding-place at Ver-ranch."

"And after missing me last night, you thought to find me here today?"

"I knew you were most anxious to see him; that upon him depended your chance to undo some of his Excellency, the Governor's, knavery! And, then, to find you here with the daughter of the man who has wrought you so much wrong; robbed you of your lands—your right to your name!"

A cloud shadowed the listener's bold brow. "I know not how it came about, Seigneur, but be assured, no good can come of it!"

From where she stood, at the distance to the tower, the Governor's daughter saw now the two men descending; she perceived, also, at a turn in the path, coming up slowly, as one whose years had begun to tell upon him, another figure, clad in black; a priest. This last person and the Black Seigneur accosted each other; stopped, while the other man, who had crossed himself at sight of her, drew aside. At length, somewhat abruptly, they and an absence of any further desire to attempt to disguise the truth.

"Back! Where?" She could not conceal her surprise.

"To the Mount."

For the moment she did not speak; she had not known what to expect—certainly not that.

"Why not?" A smile, slightly forced, crossed his face. "Does your Ladyship think I make war on women? Only, before your Ladyship departs, it will be necessary for you to agree to a little condition."

"Condition?" She drew her breath quickly.

"That you will say nothing to incriminate him. He is an old servant of mine; has broken none of the laws of the land," with a somewhat contemptuous accent, "works his bit of ground; pays metayage, and a tax on all the fish he brings in. Only in a certain matter today has he served me."

"You mean I must say nothing about meeting him? You?"

"For his sake!"

"And your own!"

"Mine?" He made a careless gesture. "I should not presume! For myself I should exact or expect, from your Ladyship no promise. Tonight I shall be far away. But this good fellow remains behind; should be allowed to continue his peaceful, lowly occupation. I would not have anything happen to him on my account."

"And if I refuse to promise?" she asked haughtily. "To enter into any covenant with—you!"

"But you will not!" he said steadily. "Your Ladyship, for her own sake, should not force the alternative."

"Alternative?"

"Why speak of it?"

"What is the alternative?" she demanded.

"If your Ladyship refuses to promise, it will be necessary for the man to return alone."

"You mean," in spite of herself, she gave a start, "you would make me a prisoner?"

"It should not be necessary."

"But you would not dare!" indignantly.

"Not dare! Your Ladyship forgets—"

"True!" with a scornful glance. After a pause: "But suppose I did promise? Are you not proposing a good deal of confidence in me?"

"Not too much!"

"I presume," disdainfully, "I should feel flattered in being trusted by—"

She did not finish the sentence.

But the young man apparently had not heard. "I'll take the chance on your own words," he added unexpectedly.

"My words?"

"That you are no tell-tale."

The girl started. "Tell-tale?" she repeated.

"You once told me you were not!"

"I—told you!" She stared at him.

"Told me you were no tell-tale," he repeated. "And—when Beppo lied, you told the truth—about a ragged vagabond of a boy."

"Beppo!" The look in her eyes deepened; cleared. "I remember now," she said slowly. "You were the boy with the fish, who said he lived in the woods. I met you while riding, and again that night, as a child, leaving for Paris; but I did not know, then, you would become—"

The young man's face changed. "An outlaw!" he said coolly.

"Yes, an outlaw," she repeated firmly. Angered by his unflinching gaze, she went on: "Who dares not fly the flag of his king! Who dares not come openly into any honest port!"

She ended, her brown eyes flashing. His own darkened; but he only remarked coldly: "My Lady, at any rate, dares much!"

"Oh, I've no doubt you don't care to hear!"

"From you!" He looked at her oddly, from the golden hair to the small, dainty foot. "From your Ladyship!" he repeated, as if amused. An instant he regarded her silently, intently; but his voice when at length he again spoke was cool and slightly mocking: "My Lady speaks, of course, from the standpoint of her own world—a very pretty world! A park of plaisance, wherein, I can vouch for it, my Lady dances very prettily."

She started; a flush of resentment glowed and faded on her cheek; a question his words suggested trembled on her lips.

"Why did you come to the beach that night of the dances? How dared you, knowing that?"

"Why?" His eyes lost their ironical light. "Why?" he repeated; then laughed with sudden recklessness. "I wished to see your Ladyship."

"Me?" She shrank back.

"You!" he repeated, his gaze, fastened on the startled, proud face. "Though I looked not forward to a dance—with your Ladyship!" The black eyes glowed. "Pard! It was worth the risk." A moment he, wait-off; then his manner changed. "I will leave your Ladyship now," he said quietly. "You will have opportunity to consider"—she did not answer—"whether you will give me your promise, or not," he added, and, wheeling abruptly, walked away.

Some time later, in the fast-gathering darkness, from the cove a small boat put out, with Sanchez, gloomy and sullen, in the stern; at the bow, the Governor's daughter. As the isle receded and the point of land loomed bigger before them, the girl gazed straight ahead; but the man looked back; to the sands of the little cove, a pale similar in the dragon-like mouth of the rock; toward the tower, near which he fancied he could see a figure, turned from them—seaward—where, far out, a ship might just be discerned, a dim outline on the horizon.

Creosote to Kill Dandelions.

John Lang, superintendent of City Park, who has been fighting the pest for many years, recommends creosote again this year for killing dandelions on private lawns. It should be squirted from a small oil can, about eight or ten drops into the top of the plant if a small one, but if a large dandelion the head should be trimmed off and the creosote injected into the crown of the root. It should be applied only when the grass is dry, and care should be taken to keep it off the grass, though of course this cannot be entirely avoided. If the grass should be burned slightly the spot will grow over inside of a season. The creosote follows the root of the dandelion clear to its base and burns it so badly that it can never come up again.—Denver Municipal Facts.

The Rejoicing Eunuch

By REV. FARLEY ZARTMANN, D.D.,
Secretary of Extension Department of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT: Acts 8:39—"And he went on his way rejoicing."

On his way rejoicing. Why not? He had found Jesus Christ as a personal Saviour and instead of going home dejected and despairing, he could go saying with the Psalmist, "I waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me and heard my cry. He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay; and he hath set my feet on the rock and he hath put a new song into my mouth, even praise unto our God." This may be your experience ere you close this day, and it may be your privilege to sing.

O happy day that fixed my choice,
On thee, my Saviour and my God.
Well may this glowing heart rejoice,
And tell its raptures all abroad.

This story tells the secret of the eunuch's happiness and refreshes the soul as we read.

The Servant.

Philip, the evangelist, is one of the chief actors in this dramatic incident. He was one of the deacons who had been converted in the early days of the apostolic church, and having found Jesus, he was busy in making him known. He is associated in our minds with Peter as we read the Acts of the Apostles. But he is so different in his temperament and methods, and this illustrates how Christ chooses the man for the task. Philip was aggressive, many-sided, flexible, capable of adapting himself to diverse temptations. He had just been preaching in Samaria, and perhaps the incident of Simon Magus may have disturbed him. If so the message from the angel to leave Samaria would be some encouragement. God is behind all our movements; let us be quiet in our souls and quick to hear when he speaks, follow where he leads or go where he sends us. In that direction lie joy, power and victory. The paths may be as diverse as those of Peter and Philip and the places may be as strangely different as Samaria and Gaza. The word of the Lord came to Philip to leave the populous city, preaching of the divine truth and responding thereto, and to go to Gaza, a desolate and desert place, and preach the gospel to one man. But there God met them: "And he blessed him there." Gaza was the gateway to Palestine from the south, and Ethiopia was now to stretch out her hands to God. Your prompt and joyous obedience may open a new kingdom for your Lord. No doubt that was a strange journey to Philip, and he must have wondered why he was leaving the city and going down to Gaza; but at the end of the day his soul rejoiced in what had been done. It is a blessed thing to have so infallible a guide, so wise a teacher, so safe a master, and to know that in following him we are safe.

The Seeker.

As Philip waits on the lonely road he sees a chariot approaching and he may have wondered whether the man in it would be the object of his own journey. The chariot contains not an Israelite, but a man from Ethiopia, and probably a descendant of Ham. The eunuch was a man of importance, a treasurer in the court of Queen Candace. No doubt he had wealth, high position, great influence and fame, but evidently the spirit of God made him dissatisfied with all these. He had occasion to go to Jerusalem; may it not have been a part of God's plan to bring him to the clear realization of his need, in fact, to have some promise and encouragement to go up to the temple of Jerusalem.

But even there he did not find peace, and he was returning to his own country still longing for God, when the Spirit said to Philip: "Go join thyself to this chariot." Undoubtedly the eunuch was distracted and anxious, but in his hand he had the message of God. At last God's messenger, God's word, and the seeking soul have met and the result is glorious and gratifying. The seeking soul always will find. Do not be lazy or indifferent about your own eternal welfare. Follow God as far as he leads. New light will fall upon the path just ahead of your present step.

"If thou believest, thou mayest."

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." God has declared it; nothing hinders its fulfillment except your own belief. Come, let the spirit of God through the word reveal Jesus to you as the Saviour from your sins and as the keeper of your life; claim what he promises so freely, accept what he offers, and enjoy what he imparts and reign in life through One, even Jesus Christ. "And he went on his way rejoicing."

Suffering, shame and scoffing rude,
In my place condemned he stood;
Saved my garden with his blood,
Hallelujah, what a Saviour!

"THE COMMON LAW"

The greatest amount of favor attained by Robert W. Chambers' wonderfully successful book, "The Common Law," is mainly due to the interest shown to its pages by the gentler sex, essentially "The Common Law" is a woman's story. Hence, in making preparations for its dramatization Manager A. H. Woods was mindful of that fact and aimed in the direction of making the play a woman's play for after all is said and done much depends upon the woman's world for stage successes and when the production of "The Common Law" was made last season, it was very evident from the start that this well discerning manager had not missed the mark. Indeed, the efforts made for the purpose of giving the play a very distinctive place in the high esteem of womankind won the unstinted verdict of praise, and thus setting the seal of approval it was determined that every section of the country

"A GIRL OF THE UNDERWORLD"

"A Girl of The Underworld" which plays at Myers theatre Sunday Oct. 27 matinee and evening is a play from the pen of Jack Gorman, who has written some of the biggest successes upon the American stage. In this new play he has dealt with a theme which all authors have overlooked for years. It is a beautiful play, and after a short circuit of theatres in this country, "The Girl of The Underworld" will go to New York, for its supreme showing; popular prices will prevail here and the people of Janesville will have an opportunity of seeing one of the best company of artists now playing before the public. Chas. Porter who presents "The Girl of The Underworld" frankly states that it is the best show he has had the pleasure of presenting for years, and predicts its immediate success upon the Metropolitan opening. Stories have been written, plays have been presented but a better comedy drama has never or will never be presented that will equal should be allowed occasion to pass similar judgement with the result that no less than four companies of "The Common Law" are touring with success and unqualified.

"The Common Law" is announced for a hearing in this city on next Friday evening Oct. 25 at Myers theatre and unless all signs fail there will be a record crowd in attendance to get further acquainted with the story that has awakened more discussion than any in the last decade. Manager Woods, realizing the importance of "The Common Law" as a dramatic event, has given fullest attention towards making the production one of consummate artistic splendor and has engaged a company of players altogether capable of rendering a performance which should prove both gratifying and unforgettable.

"KINDLING"

Rev. William E. Danforth, pastor of Christ Church at Elmhurst, a fashionable suburb of Chicago, recently delivered a sermon upon the widely discussed play, "Kindling" in which Sarah Padden will appear at the Myers Theatre Saturday Nov. 2. He strongly recommended the play, commenting particularly on the truth of the lines given to Maggie Schultz, the central character of the story:

"Being Right."

"Being right is greater than being good—and its different. It's easy enough being good because everybody agrees about it, but in doing right there's nothing to back you up but your own sense."

DINNER STORIES

Lowell once met an acquaintance (of dubious standing), whose cheerful face and happy demeanor led him to ask the cause of such exuberant felicity. "Why," said the genial smile, "I've discovered a way to make my fortune. We all know that the reason for the fine flavor of the wild duck is the wild celery on which it feeds. Now I propose to feed it to the domestic duck, and supply the market." Some weeks later, on meeting his acquaintance again Lowell found him quite depressed, and inconsolable. "Why are you looking so unhappy?" I thought the last time I saw you, that you were on the point of making your fortune with ducks. Wouldn't it work?" "No," was the reply, "the d-n things won't eat it."

A bachelor who lived near Paris managed to secure much amusement out of a "topsy-turvy room," which he had built in his house. A gentleman, who was one of a stag party that visited him from Saturday to Monday, says: "When we woke up, about two o'clock, on Sunday morning, after a jolly evening, one of our number, sound asleep on the couch in the billiard-room, was carried out like a log by a couple of servants. My host gave me a solemn wink, and told me that if a sudden summons came I was to rush from my bedroom, or else I might miss a sight worth seeing. I wanted nothing but sleep—and was relieved when the summons came to find that it was broad daylight. Yawning, I followed the valet, and found myself, with four others, silently peeping through little holes in a wall. The scene was absurd, ridiculous. A dazed man, slowly waking to full consciousness, was lying on a plastered floor, looking up in horror at a carpeted ceiling. Two heavy couches, an easy chair, chairs and tables securely fastened, stared down at him from above. The man's eyes at last rested on a flower-pot directly over his head, from which a flaring rose—apparently real—was blooming. He gave a cry, and, rolling over, grasped with frenzied hands the stem of the chandelier which came up through the floor. The host burst into the room with a loud laugh. 'They all do it,' he cried, 'they fear they will fall up to the ceiling.'"

Suggestion for Girls.

A girl who has just made a brilliant marriage after two successful seasons, says: "I'm a good deal cleverer than most of the men, but I take great care that they don't know it." This attitude resulted in her being surrounded constantly by a crowd of devoted youths who thought she hung upon their clever sayings. This is a good suggestion to girls just entering society.

If One Physician Could Relieve Every Case of

RHEUMATISM

Sciatica and Neuritis

Should it become known that a physician living here could RELIEVE EVERY CASE of rheumatism, sciatica and neuritis, the sufferers of this and surrounding cities would crowd his office. One physician in New York—a specialist in his profession, has been able to do this—TO RELIEVE PRACTICALLY EVERY CASE PRESENTED TO HIM, with a prescription which is known as "NURITO." It is an ethical prescription and contains neither opiates nor narcotics; and it has proven itself in more than 45,000 cases to be a positive antidote for the uric acid in the system which causes rheumatism, sciatica and neuritis.

No dieting is necessary—on the contrary, you are recommended to eat your usual allotment of food. No matter how badly you are suffering, you will begin to feel the medicine work at once. We are prepared to show you proofs, backed by analysis. The physician who can relieve every case is not in this city in person, BUT THE MEDICINE THAT HE PRESCRIBES IS HERE. "Nurito," which is in powder form, sells for $1 and $2 a box. To try it means to be convinced—to replace your pains and aches with enthusiasm for this advancement in medicine.
